One, 1937 Packard Super 8, painted black.

Engine: Flathead, Straight-8cylinder engine with a manual transmission.

Interior: Gauges include fuel, amps, and speedometer with odometer, oil pressure, engine temperature, clock, radio, ash tray, and manual choke, simulated wood grain dash, leather-wrapped 3 spoke steering wheel, wipers, rear-view mirror, dual glove boxes, bench style seats in both front and rear. Original leather upholstery has been changed to velour fabric, and the door panels are covered with a velour fabric and faux wood accents.

Exterior: 4-headlight system with auxiliary driving lights, dual reproduction side rear-view mirrors, full spring chromed bumpers in both the front and rear, full size chrome grille with hood ornament, front side mounted spare tires, and rear retractable gate for additional storage.

Tires: Bias-ply nylon tires mounted painted factory rims, with wide white walls.

CONDITION #4, except as noted.

Condition: Paint is crazed and peeling in several areas. The weather stripping is dry-rotted on windows, the right-hand glove box liner insert is missing, there are holes and rips in the upholstery, mounting hardware on factory I.D. plate has been changed from the original, and the chrome surfaces are pitted overall.
